MAYOR TO COMPEL ST. PAUL RY. CO. TO ELEVATE ITS YARDS AND PROTECT MILL CROSSING

PLAN TO PETITION RAIL COMMISSION

COMMUNICATION SENT TO COUNCIL MEETING LAST NIGHT

THE ROAD WAS DEFIANT

Correspondence Between Mayor and Supt. Cheney Shows Flat Refusal Was Made.

The city government will shortly petition the state railroad commission to compel the C. M. & St. P. Railway company to elevate its north side yards.

That is the natural deduction from a communication presented to the city council by Mayor Wendell A. Anderson at its adjourned regular meeting last night. The step is the result of repeated delay and refusal on the part of the company to afford an adequate protection at the death-trap Mill street crossing and from a significant reference to the plan shelved some two years ago, whereby the elevation of the tracks was to have been accomplished. It is presumable that an effort will be made to secure that action now.

At the suggestion of the mayor the whole affair was referred to the railroad committee, with the recommendation of the executive that the affair be laid before the state commission. Dr. Anderson suggested the various steps in the following communication:

The Communication.
Nov. 20, 1907.
"To the Common Council of the City of La Crosse.
"Gentlemen: For many years the danger to life and obstruction to traffic on Mill street, at the crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, in this city has engaged the attention of the various administrations. Only partial relief has resulted from the efforts, made and conferences held with the officials of the railroad. In the spring of 1906

"I'M A FRIEND OF LA FOLLETTE," IS WORD OF DOLLIVER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 21.—In an interview at the Milwaukee Athletic club last night Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver, Iowa, said:

"I think that this winter will make many changes in public opinion, of which may occur with great rapidity, making history fast. Therefore, it would be unwise, at this time, for me to speculate as to whose chances are best in the race for the presidency."

"Senator La Follette has a host of staunch friends in our good state of Iowa. He has lots of friends all over the west. He is everywhere believed to be honest and earn it."

"I have known him ever since the fifty-first congress, and he is a friend of mine, and I am a friend of his."

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM TANKE SATURDAY

The funeral of William Tanke, who died at his home yesterday afternoon after suffering for the past two years with dropsy, will be held Saturday afternoon from the residence, 912 South Third street at 2 o'clock. Rev. Gamm will conduct the services and interment will be made at the Oak Grove cemetery.

Deceased was 52 years old and was born in Germany, coming to America in 1872 and making his home in La Crosse. He was a tanner by trade, but for the past two years has retired on account of his health. Surviving him are a widow and four children, Gustav, William, Emil and Hulda, all of this city.

WINNIPEG, Canada, Nov. 21.—A terrific explosion at a point where construction work is being done on the Grand Trunk & Pacific road near Kenora, killed seven men and injured four.

FIVE CHILDREN DIE IN FIRE.

$454,568.86 TO BE RAISED BY TAX

COUNCIL COMPLETED BUDGET LAST EVENING

$40,000 MORE THAN IN 1907

School Request is Cut Down Nearly Four Thousand Dollars From Amount Asked

Practically forty thousand dollars is the amount which the assessment has exceeded that of 1906, and the finance committee had a hard siege to prepare the budget which was adopted by the city council last night.

The county assessment was raised over $2,000 over last year.

The amount which was paid the state for school taxes last year was $9,000, and the city received in return $21,000, which was over $11,000 more than paid. This year however, the city has to pay over $21,000 and will get but $22,000. The city therefore receives $10,000 less and must pay $10,000 which makes $20,000, and this in addition to the $20,000 increase in county taxes, will aggregate $40,000 over what it was last year.

SAYS SHE KNOCKED BROWN'S TEETH OUT

MRS. BRADLEY ADMITS DISPLAYING TEMPER

CROSS EXAMINATION IS OVER

Woman Denies She Threatened to "Blow Brown's Head Off"—Many Sided Woman

WASHINGTON, D.-C., Nov. 21.—The cross-examination of Mrs. Bradley, charged with the murder of the late Senator Brown, of Salt Lake, was resumed here at 10 o'clock this morning.

The crowds of yesterday were repeated, early morning finding throngs, mostly women, awaiting the opening of court.

A hypothetical question, probably longer than that employed in the Thaw case, will be used. After summing up a supposititious case, using the facts brought out in the evidence, it will be asked: Was she mentally responsible? Was she insane? Could she distinguish right from wrong?

Mrs. Bradley appeared to be nervous and worn when she took the stand, but her voice was firm and even, and she gave evidence of having steeled herself for the ordeal of today. The attorney for the defense first led her back to the farm where it is said Max Brown objected to her presence.

Replying to a question Mrs. Bradley admitted that she had struck Brown with an umbrella and knocked out several of his teeth. She emphatically denied, however, that she had ever threatened to "blow his head off."

Whole Gamut of Passion.

Previously to going under cross-examination Mrs. Bradley had related the dramatic story of the shooting, and with downcast and tearful eyes and identified more than one hundred letters that had passed between the senator and herself, as well as the letter from Mrs. Annie Adams to Brown, which is described as the immediate cause of the tragedy. In these passages of her testimony she was as tender as later she became defiant.

It is this that makes the woman so remarkable. In two days she has run the entire gamut of the passions. We have seen her eyes alight with the flame of love and her face ablaze with angry passion.

She has been tender and pleading, hard and unyielding, joyful and tragic, and there has not been lacking even the element of romantic comedy, as when today, a letter having been produced signed in her handwriting with the initials "L. M. J.," she made with all the coyness of a school girl this frivolous little admission:

"His Little Mint Julep."

"In one of the first letters that the senator ever wrote to me, he called me his 'little mint julep.' After that I frequently signed my letters to him under those initials."

The cross-examination of Mrs. Bradley was concluded shortly after noon.

MRS. HARTJE WINS EVERY POINT BEFORE THE SUPERIOR COURT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Hartje won every contention in her legal struggle with her husband, as disclosed in a decision handed down today in the superior court. The court sustained Mrs. Hartje's divorce and denied the application of Hartje to have the case reopened on the plea that new evidence had been found.

Hartje had made this last petition based on alleged information from his daughters in which it was sought to show that Mrs. Hartje had been guilty of social improprieties, and on further affidavits from the celebrated coachman in the case.

PITCHES FLAMING STOVE FROM WINDOW

Crash!—and a "comet" came flying through the second story window over the store of Odin J. Oyen about 9 o'clock this morning, to the brick pavement.

The streak of fire which was a blazing oil stove, frightened the horse which had just been driven to the curbing by the delivery man and it was thought for a time that a runaway would result.

The girl clerk was up stairs, in the picture framing department when she noticed that the stove was defective and about to explode.

Just as the fire burst from the stove one of the expert framing men grabbed it and pitched it out of the front window.

His quick work no doubt prevented a bad fire.

KILLS SELF AND SONS.

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Jessie Hedges killed herself and her two young sons by locking them in a bedroom and turning on the gas.

INDIANA'S PRIZE FARMER.

The prize farmer of the Hoosier state is probably L. B. Core of Franklin, Ind. Mr. Core established a world's record for high priced corn when he paid $250 for a single ear at a recent auction at the National Corn exposition at Chicago. It was an ear of his own raising and one of ten ears of white corn which were awarded championship sweepstake prizes amounting to nearly $8,000. Mr. Core raised all the prize corn on 13 acres. He attends agriculture college short courses, wears evening clothes and has an automobile. He is considered one of the most progressive farmers in Indiana. His entire farm consists of but 128 acres and he and his two brothers get all their living from it.

RIOTERS SLAY AND ARE SLAIN IN TURN

BRUTAL CROWD ATTACKS WOMEN IN GOVT. ABATTOIR

VLODIVISTOK BLOOD SCENE

Troops Come to Rescue and Mow Down Murderers at Their Bloody Work.

VLODIVISTOK, Nov. 21.—There are a score of dead people, and a large number of injured here as the result of a battle between government troops and rioters.

A large party of drunken revelers attacked the men and women employed in the government abattoir. A large man clothed as an army officer led the attack, which was made suddenly and without apparent cause. The murderers entered the place and armed themselves with cleavers, rushing the working people in a vicious assault. The men and women seized whatever weapons were at hand, and although terror-stricken by the brutal onslaught, fought desperately and sold their lives dearly. Many of the dead were literally hacked to pieces, and the wounds of the injured show that they were inflicted with a malicious cruelty.

In the midst of the carnage the troops arrived and the rioters suffered heavily in the repulse they then sustained. A number were killed, and a great many arrests were made.

ALDERMAN GROVER SUFFERS PARALYSIS

Alderman William Grover was unable to report at the council when called last evening on account of the fact that he was stricken with paralysis about two weeks ago while sitting beside the fire, at his home.

His neck has been afflicted on one side so that he cannot turn his head. He is improving, and nothing serious is expected to develop.

MURDEROUS ROW NEAR LANSING

According to word received from Lansing a dance held at the Frank Colvin home on Yellow river in the old Manchester mill neighborhood last Friday evening was the scene of a drunken fight between Joseph Evans and Alden Bealls, which resulted in the death of the latter and the arrest of the former charged with being responsible for it.

TRIAL FOR PILOT WHO ACTED BADLY

FOWLER CASE COMES UP IN THE CAIRO COURT TODAY

PRESIDENT MADE CHARGES

Ordered His Suspension After River Procession in Which Steamers Nearly Came Together

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 21.—A case of national interest is on trial here today, in which an incident of President Roosevelt's trip down the Mississippi will be aired. Pilot Fowler is the defendant.

On Oct. 4, during the steamboat procession down the river to Memphis the steamer Fred Hartwed, carrying the Pittsburg delegation, was so maneuvered as to render the boat conspicuous at some hazard to other craft. It is claimed by people aboard the Mississippi, which was carrying the presidential party, that a collision nearly resulted, and the president wired Inspector Williams, at Evansville, to suspend the skipper's license immediately. In his telegram he said:

"His conduct might have cost me my life."

There followed a good deal of discussion, many navigators who were in the procession claiming that the president was in error in presuming that danger had resulted from the handling of the Fred Hartwed. The action of the president in ordering the suspension establishes a precedent, as the step was never taken before by the chief executive of the land. However, his right to do so has not been questioned, the adverse criticisms having been based upon questions of propriety and justice.

DAVIDSON TO ACCEPT INVITATION TO THE ROOSEVELT MEETING

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Gov. Davidson has received the call issued by President Roosevelt for a meeting of governors and delegates next May, to discuss the conservation of the resources of the country. In reply to a question today he said he intended to appoint three of the "strongest citizens of Wisconsin" to accompany him to the conference. He added that he would go as a "Roosevelt delegate," prepared to back up any and all of the recommendations that the president may make to the gathering. The necessity for preserving the resources of the country, he said, eclipses all other national questions and is more vital even than that of the currency.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR C. E. BENNETT

Short but impressive funeral services were held over the remains of former Vice President Charles E. Bennett of the Hyde Elevator company at the residence this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. Henry Faville of the Congregational church officiated.

The pallbearers were Messrs. A. A. Morse, F. L. Goddard, A. L. McIntosh, H. W. Pierce, Mr. Stevenson and R. S. Hyde.

The body was taken to the Milwaukee depot where it was shipped on the noon Milwaukee train to Ripon, the former home of the deceased, where the final funeral services and interment will take place.

KNIGHTS COLUMBUS GET K. OF P. HALL

The Knights of Columbus at their last evening's meeting began arrangements for an exclusive hall of their own.

The Coren haul on Main street has been known as the Knights of Pythias hall, but since they have moved to elaborate new rooms the knights have decided to have the hall remodeled with a reception room and other necessary accommodations for a Knights of Columbus hall.

Regular order of business was taken up last evening and no other matters of importance came before the order.

VET OF TWO WARS DIES IN ILLINOIS

SALEM, Ill., Nov. 21.—Gen. James Stewart, a veteran of the Mexican and Civil wars, former congressman and banker and republican politician, is dead at the age of 82. He defeated Judge Silas Bryan, a Nebraskans father, for congress.

WATERWAY PLAN IS APPROVED IN TOTO

USKOGEE, Nov. 21.—In the trans-Mississippi congress today the plan for Mississippi river improvement, including the ship canal from Cairo to the gulf was heartily endorsed.

MERCHANTS QUIT GIVING PREMIUMS

ASSOCIATION TAKES ACTION LAST NIGHT.

NO MORE GIFTS WITH GOODS

Practice Creates Rivalry Among the Members and Proves Expensive to all Concerned.

At a special meeting of the Merchants Protective association of La Crosse in the small council chamber last evening a resolution was adopted and passed unanimously by the members, that after January 1st, premium and souvenir inducements such as turkeys, etc., will be entirely abolished under a penalty.

In years past it has been customary to have sales preceding holidays and other occasions, and with certain amounts of purchase, the merchant would give a souvenir or some such article as an extra inducement. This has been a great expense to the merchants as well as causing a conflict among them and at last night's meeting it was decided to abolish all forms of premiums and souvenirs.

Several other minor matters were brought before the meeting including train service on the various roads and they were referred to the different committees.

WALSH IN DARING PLEA WOULD EVADE GRASP OF THE LAW

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The attorneys for John R. Walsh, defendant in the suit in which he is charged with embezzling $14,000,000, offered a novel plea in his defense today. They concluded that if a king of finance "violates the law and succeeds," he ought not to be punished. They claimed that if a banker violates the specific terms of a law intended to protect his depositors for the purpose of insuring that protection, he observes the spirit, though he ignores the letter of the laws.

Dobyns characterized this sensational plea as "the Napoleonic theory of military expedient that success justifies disobedience."

STAMPEDE TRAMPLES DOWN NINE VICTIMS

YORK, Pa., Nov. 21.—In a panic at Quikch church Eli Gross of Zion's View was probably fatally injured and eight others were hurt.

While the funeral of the victims of a double murder was in progress a report was circulated that the building was falling.

Just then the stove was pushed over. The congregation, which filled the church, immediately became frenzied, and a struggle ensued to escape. Men, women and children fought to get out of the windows and doors. The injured were hurt by being trampled upon.

The stampede occurred after 425 persons had passed before the caskets containing the bodies of the murdered youths. In the panic the caskets were thrown on the floor. The funeral service was postponed and the bodies were buried as soon as the injured were removed and cared for.

ADMINISTRATOR OVERCHARGED HEIRS

Judge Fruit has rendered a decision in the suit of the heirs to the estate of William Jones, against R. T. Roberts, Mankato, Minn., giving the plaintiffs $69.82 damages against Roberts. The heirs claimed Roberts, as administrator of the Jones estate, overcharged in his fees. Roberts resided at Bangor, Wis., when appointed administrator, but now is a resident of Mankato.

DANCE UNDER GROUND

LONDON, Nov. 21.—While a group of the ablest English lawyers are trying to oust the duke of Portland from his splendid estate, the duke last night, as if defying public opinion which believes the Australian claimant to be the true heir to the Portland millions, gave a lavish ball in honor of the king and queen of Spain at Welbeck abbey.

The Spanish king and queen danced in the subterranean ball-room, built by the insane duke, the walls of which were covered with priceless pictures.

CARLISLE INDIANS WHO DEFEATED MINNESOTA

No team on the 1907 football gridiron has attracted wider attention than the Carlisle Indians. They have beaten the American at his own game. Naturally imbued with the love for battle and the spirit of antagonism these civilized braves have attacked the rush line of their opponents with the same grim determination and resistless fury with which their painted ancestors demolished the frontier cabins. This by no means implies, however, that Carlisle depends upon brute development of its supremacy. On the contrary, it plays clean, scientific football, taking advantage of every fine point in the great collegiate game. In fact the Indians in nearly every game they play outclass the white man who opposes them not only in physical development, but in the use of football brains.

Until the Indians met Princeton a few days ago they were absolutely supreme in eastern football even handing Pennsylvania a decisive defeat. Now the Indians are in the west to try their prowess, and the result of the experiment will be awaited with interest. Last Saturday the Indians defeated the University of Minnesota, and Saturday of this week meets the Chicago university. This picture shows seven of the fighting football braves. Reading from the top down the straight row comes the following:

HIGH SCHOOL IS PLAYING TODAY

FIRST AND SECOND TEAMS ARE PRACTICING

ARE ONTO SPARTA'S MOVES

Believe Thanksgiving Game Will Be a Victory for La Crosse, Bringing State Championship

The La Crosse High school football eleven and the second team will play a game at the League park this afternoon after school is closed. Two thirty-five minute halves will be played and it will give the coaches an opportunity to see the eleven in action as it will line up against Sparta on Thanksgiving day. La Crosse backers who witnessed the game between Sparta and Madison last Saturday have given some pointers to the coach and the second team was drilled last evening by Prof. Benetz in the Sparta system of offense, which will greatly help the first team in practice for the Thanksgiving game.

N. Tourtelotte, who has been laid up with a dislocated shoulder most of the season, is again in uniform and is holding his old position at end. Although he has not entirely recovered from his injury, he is getting into the game in his old time form and will be depended on in the game with Sparta. Shaw will in all probability get into the game against the second team, as his injured knee is getting along nicely and will practice with the team for the Sparta game. The coaches have been making considerable changes in the line, during the past few days. Shirley, who has been playing at end, has been shifted to center, and Mueller has been sent into the guard position. The shifts are not permanent. The guard position will be fought out between Brindley, Stavrum, Mueller, Schaldach and Keeler, while Mueller, Shirley and Davis will try for the position of snapper back.

The tackle positions and end positions will probably be filled by Shaw, Tourtelotte, Capt. Dahlgren and Jungbluth.

Byrne will remain at his old position at quarter, W. Tourtelotte at full, while the half back positions are still in doubt. W. Doud, who played on the eleven two years ago, is out for his old position at left half and Fowler, Larson and J. Dahlgren are working for the other half back position.

The pupils at the school are preparing for mass meetings to be held at the school gymnasium every evening next week. This evening after school the students will go to the League park, in a body and attend the game between the first and second teams.

RICE LAKE SEEKS EAU CLAIRE GAME

RICE LAKE, Wis., Nov. 21.—The local high school is trying to arrange a game with Eau Claire, claimant to the state championship, but up to date the two schools have been unable to reach an agreement. The Rice Lake management demands that the game be played here on Saturday, while Eau Claire wants the game played in Eau Claire on Friday. Local students claim that Eau Claire is not living up to the conditions of its challenge.

MADISON PRACTICE STOPPED BY RAIN

TEAM FORCED TO WORK IN THE GYMNASIUM

BETTERS P.C.K. MINNESOTA

Few of the Most Enthusiastic at Madison Believe Badgers Can Win Forthcoming Game.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 21.—Madison was visited by a heavy down-pour of rain yesterday which thoroughly moistened Camp Randall and the varsity football squad was compelled to practice indoors. Coaches Hutchins and McCarthy had the men in the gymnasium, where they had an opportunity to try McCarthy's new idea of indoor football. Two teams were lined up and both forward passes and on side kicks were used.

No more heavy scrimmage work will be held before the Minnesota game, as the coaches do not care to assume the risk of losing some of the men through injuries. Fast signal work, with instructions in the forward pass, will be the order of practice today and Friday.

Many bets are being placed in the city favoring Minnesota by large odds, and one bet has been offered that the Gophers will run up at least 50 points against the Badgers. These bets are laughed at by those who are acquainted with the work of the Wisconsin team and who believe that Minnesota is still to meet the stiffest defense it has encountered this season.

Announcement was made that the freshman society of the university, Skull and Crescent, will hold its biennial initiation on the gridiron between the halves of the game Saturday. This is a departure at Wisconsin but is in accord with custom at eastern institutions.

The officials for the game Saturday will be J. E. Kelly of Princeton, referee; Stauffer of Pennsylvania, umpire; Snow of Michigan, field judge.

Hold Mass Meeting.

At a mass meeting of students last night to arouse interest in the game held in conjunction with the dedication exercises of the new Wisconsin Union club rooms, student loyalty to the Badger warriors was demonstrated clearly and the prediction was made that Minnesota would discover that it had more than a toy on its hands when it tackles Wisconsin. Incidentally, Carl N. Hill, the junior law student who won recognition recently by designating the anti-element of the faculty as "pedagogical fossils" took occasion to score the faculty roundly. He credited the team with being as good fighters as Wisconsin ever had, but he said that sympathy, support, and enthusiasm of the students had been lacking because of an "omnipresent and omnipotent faculty."

Many of the football men were called upon to speak. None of them would venture to predict the score Saturday, but all expressed their determination to fight Minnesota to the last ditch in an endeavor to show the people of Wisconsin that intercollegiate athletics are not dead at the university.

As Coach McCarthy was present and made a speech on the value of the new union; his remarks were heartily applauded. During the meeting the speakers repeatedly referred to McCarthy as the man who could arouse the team to fight and student confidence in his ability to make the men battle as they did against Iowa was expressed by frequent cheering.

Lieut. Ralph McCoy, commandant of the university regiment, today ordered the band to refrain from playing "Hail, hail, the gangs all here" in the future. He explained that his action was not due to any personal objection to the song, but to its rendition where women are present. The song was sung many times at the mass meeting.

SPARTA BUSY AT FOOTBALL PRACTICE

SPARTA, Wis., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—Yesterday a preliminary practice was held by the Sparta team; merely a light practice, as the fellows are rather stiff yet from Saturday's contest with the heavy Madison team. Last night most of team was able to go into scrimmage. A good practice was held and the school got out on the campus and practiced new plays and songs to be used in the Thanksgiving game.

Although they look forward to the contest on Turkey Day yet the football enthusiasts here are not a little alarmed over a rumor to the effect that Jefferson, Sparta's star quarter back, is battling with an attack of the mumps. In case the rumor materializes the team will be greatly handicapped, as Jefferson's ability has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of all. In every game this year (the La Crosse game excepted) he booted over one or more difficult drop kicks. It is greatly to be hoped that Jefferson will be in line by Thanksgiving and still at his old stand.

KAREL TO SPEAK FOR ATHLETICS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 21.—(Special.)—John C. Karel, county judge, and one of the famous foot-

WILLIAM LOEB, JR., SECRETARY TO THE PRESIDENT.

William Loeb, Jr., has concluded he does not care to be a railroad magnate, preferring rather to sit at the feet of the mighty Theodore as understudy to the president. He has declined the presidency of the Washington Railway and Electric company for some time, after which they propose to put Mr. Roosevelt's secretary at the head of the corporation. Mr. Loeb announces, however, that he will not accept the presidency even if his friends gain control. Not only has he refused this place, but several others, and will continue to refuse them until Mr. Roosevelt is through being president of the United States.

ball players of by-gone days at Wisconsin university, will make a plea for athletics at the meeting of alumni of the university tonight. A protest against the action of the faculty in placing a bar on fraternities and sororities is expected to be made. Prominent alumni today stated that the student spirit is rapidly being driven out by the faculty, and unless the alumni shows its hand, the institution will lose all college atmosphere. Arrangement will be made for a large crowd of alumni to attend the Wisconsin-Minnesota game at Madison Saturday. A delegation will call on the faculty to propose changes in the athletic policy, while others will call on the student body and instill the lost school spirit.

MINNESOTA IN LINE.

(Free Press.)

The movement was inaugurated at St. Paul on Monday night that will probably result in sending a delegation from Minnesota to the next national republican convention to support Senator Robert M. La Follette for president.

Minnesota was the pioneer primary election state of the north, and has taken a leading part in the popular movement of the last few years for getting the government back to the people. It is naturally an easy state to reach in the interests of the movement to make La Follette president.

From Wisconsin went Irvine L. Lenroot, Henry F. Cochems and Secretary of State James A. Frear to tell the people of Minnesota of the unanimity with which the people of this state will ask the convention to name La Follette for the head of the national ticket next year, and to tell them of the work that has been done here in the interests of representative government.

It is particularly gratifying to Wisconsin republicans to know that one United States senator, Mr. Clapp of Minnesota, was at the meeting, and paid high tribute to the worth and the devotion of our senior senator. Senator Clapp is one of the few senators who voted right on the amendments that were offered by Senator La Follette to the faulty interstate commerce bill.

Senator Clapp voiced these sentiments of the western states when he declared that it was a pleasure to testify to the character and purpose of Robert M. La Follette.

One consideration, presented by Mr. James Burke of Minneapolis is worthy the thoughtful consideration of republicans everywhere. It is

RHEUMATISM

BODY RACKED WITH PAIN

No other disease causes such wide-spread suffering as Rheumatism. It is a nerve racking torture, and so thoroughly does it dominate the system, when it becomes entrenched in the blood, that its victims are usually complete slaves to pain. Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid in the blood brought on by stomach troubles, weak kidneys, indigestion, and a sluggish condition of the system. The natural refuse of the body, instead of passing off through the ordinary channels of waste, is left to sour and ferment in the system because of these irregularities, forming uric acid which is absorbed into the blood, and Rheumatism gets a foothold. As the blood circulates through the body it deposits the acid, irritating substances with which it is saturated, into the different muscles, nerves, tissues and bones. Sharp, biting pains commence, the flesh becomes feverish, swollen and tender, the muscles and joints throb and jerk, and the body is literally racked with pain. Plasters, blisters, liniments, etc., can never cure the disease; they relieve the pain, perhaps, temporarily, but do not reach the trouble, which is in the blood. S. S. S. is the proper treatment for Rheumatism. It goes down and attacks the disease at its head, and by driving out the poison and acid fluids which are causing the pain, and strengthening and enriching the blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, just what is needed in every case of Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

that Bryan is to be the nominee of the democratic party, and that "only a Roosevelt or a La Follette can defeat the Nebraska man who was nearer the great heart of his party than he ever had been before."

The movement is well begun. With these two states of Wisconsin and Minnesota in line for La Follette, other states will join the procession, and it is not a mere boastful prophecy that Senator La Follette, even if he does not lead all other candidates, will be a close second to the leader at the beginning of the balloting.

EXIT—THE MILL STREET CROSSING.

The action of Mayor Anderson in seeking through the state railroad commission to compel the St. Paul railroad to take the steps essential to permanently protecting the lives of people at the Mill street crossing will have the indorsement of the entire public.

There has been some criticism of the street car company for not taking the fullest precautions to protect its patrons. So long as the present conditions prevail, such precautions on the part of the local traction company will be essential, and it can be said without injustice that they have at times been wanting. That this was not the fault of the street car officials, however, is apparent. Nothing demands more serious attention at the hands of such companies than the ways and means for averting accident, because one of the most prolific instruments for creating expense fatal to dividends is the personal injury suit. Orders have doubtless been explicitly given to conductors and motormen covering such cases, but it has been the experience of street car officials everywhere that the strictest discipline will not avail to preclude careless acts and disregard for instructions. The fining of a conductor and motorman in a recent case doubtless did not engage the attention of the city authorities as a matter of concern to them owing only to the non-feasance involved in that particular case, but was inspired by the desire to set an example that should serve as a warning that the city proposes to make such conduct a personal matter with the operatives. Orders received at the car barn are not calculated to have the salutary effect that attends the knowledge that fines will be exacted by a watchful city administration for breach of so important a public trust as is the safe-guarding of the lives of passengers. The decisive action of the city in this affair should be welcomed by the street car company as upholding its hands in its efforts to secure strict discipline.

However, anent the Mill street crossing, the St. Paul railroad company, not the street car company, is at fault. Its splendid patronage from this city should have long since moved it to give the North side a decent depot and to protect the lives of La Crosse citizens by affording reasonable security at this death-trap crossing. So flagrant has been its disregard of life and convenience at this point that there seems no escape from the conclusion that the appeal to the railroad commission is a mere matter of form, and that an order will be promptly issued that the company afford adequate relief from conditions that have placed the blood of a number of people on the heads of a neglectful and selfish corporation.

Each day's chapter of the Bradley trial adds to the compassion universally felt for the erring woman, and to the contempt with which her victim is regarded. In her life there appears no trace of licentiousness, no common associations of a vulgar nature. Mastered by the influence of a dominate nature, she followed blindly a single illicit love, trusting a woman's all to the mercies of a brutal libertine. What can the punitive law of men do to add to or mitigate the penalty Heaven is hourly visiting on this woman? In the pitiable story of her career there is the suggestion that less purity exists in the souls of many a self-righteous woman who holds her head high in "society." Hers was a love of one man and one home, and for it she sacrificed the privilege of looking her sex in the face. Dare we, all slaves of sentiment and passion, judge this woman who has drunk so deeply the dregs of misery to satisfy a single heart desire? Who sentences her invites the displeasure of Heaven for presumptuous meddling with Divine Justice.

There will be deep regret over the death of Charles E. Bennett. This sturdy gentleman was possessed of an unusual degree of constancy, inheriting the determination and perseverance that made his Scottish ancestors factors in the world's progress. In his nature there was a happy blend of unflinching courage and kindly indulgence. Once his mind was settled as to the righteousness of a cause, it was his cause and he advocated and supported it with an earnestness that was inspiring. His was a Christian spirit, firm even to brusqueness in its stability, yet mellowed by a kindly charity. He merited the love and respect which he enjoyed, and the reverent regard in which his memory will be held.

The supreme court of New York has effectually squelched the plan of W. R. Hearst to secure an honest count of the votes in the last mayoral campaign in which he was defeated by cheating so palpable that even partisan organs have lacked the hardihood to defend it. But then, that is in New York.

The contention seems to be that it was nobody's business to what peculiar purposes one put some thousands of dollars while seeking to secure public contracts, in Milwaukee. Complaint is made in Milwaukee that lead dollars are in circulation. And after all this outcry against hoarding money!

5830 Fancy Blouse Waist,
$2 to 42 bust.

Mandarin sleeves of the modified sort are always charmingly graceful and are to be extensively worn throughout the season. Illustrated is an exceptionally attractive blouse that shows them used to advantage and which includes many of the newest fancies of fashion. The guimpe portion is made with a yoke of lace and the over blouse provides long and becoming lines while the sleeves are shaped to be very generally becoming and graceful. As illustrated crepe de Chine is combined with guimpe portions of chiffon in matching color and yoke of lace and is trimmed with velvet ribbon and heavy lace applique. Almost every material that is adapted to indoor gowns is appropriate, however, and voile, marquisette and the many beautiful Liberty fabrics are all especially to be commended. The contrasting yoke allows of various combinations and would be handsome made of silk braided with soutache if something a bit more substantial than lace is wanted.

The blouse is made with a lining and this lining is faced to form the yoke while over it is arranged the full portions of the guimpe. The over waist is made in two pieces, backs and fronts being cut in one with the sleeves, and is laid in plaits over the shoulders. The full, or guimpe, sleeves are joined to the lining and are finished with straight bands. There is a basque portion attached to the lower edge that serves to keep the blouse in place and which does away with all bulk below the waist line.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 2 1/2 yards 21, 2 1/2 yards 27 or 3 yards 44 inches wide for the over blouse, 1 1/2 yards 21, 1 1/2 yards 27 or 3/4 yards 44 inches wide with 1/2 yard of all over lace for the guimpe, 4 1/2 yards of applique and 4 yards of velvet ribbon for trimming.

The pattern 5830 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

Gorton's Minstrels.

Superb in stage setting, scenic effect and sumptuous costuming, the new "First Part" setting of the performance given by Gorton's Minstrels this season is said to surpass anything ever presented in minstrelsy. The scene represents the broad lawn of the "Ponce de Leon Hotel," the famous winter resort of Florida. On every side sparkling fountains and bright hued flowers adorn the landscape. In the background appears the imposing outlines of this famous hostelry, magnificent in structure and gorgeous in color. Numerous brilliant electric lights add to the splendor and beauty of this tropical scene. The costuming of the company is elaborate, and calls for special attention. The vocalists are attired in the elegant court costumes of Louis XIV; the end men are resplendent in evening dress suits of cerise satin; the interlocutor appears in a costume of pure white satin, and the orchestra in steel gray satin. The whole picture forms a brilliant and picturesque ensemble, original in conception and pleasing in every detail. The company will appear at the La Crosse theatre Saturday, Nov. 23, matinee and night.

"A Prince of Sweden." New, fresh and bright as a copper cent fresh from the mint, now comes that favorite Swedish Dialect Comedy Drama, "A Prince of Sweden." Comedy dramas seem to be the attractions that draw the crowds now-a-days and so far this season "A Prince of Sweden" decidedly held its own. And justly so, for the noted theatrical critics have been a unit in the declaration that the pretty piece takes, ranks side by side with Ole Olson and Yon Yonson.

From its first presentation to the public, the play has proven highly successful and from the time it left its birthplace its career has been one continual march of triumph. "A Prince of Sweden" always in the hands of a company of artists has undergone several changes, all of them for the better, and proceeds smoothly and swiftly and is destined for a long and prosperous career because it is one of the few plays written in America that will always be interesting. And the tale that the Prince of Sweden tells is amusing and interesting enough for anybody's taste. Carl Carlson, the peerless impersonator is to be seen in the leading part while the balance of the company comprise a list of talented artists. To further enliven and brighten the evening's performance, the management has added at a great expense seven or eight high-class specialties which are alone said to be doubly worth the modest price. La Crosse theatre, matinee and night, Sunday, Nov. 24.

Knew His Brother.

Apocryph of the country school-master of the early days of America, an old manuscript in the New Jersey Historical society contains the following characteristic anecdote:

"A traveling person coming into a country neighborhood where was a vacant schoolhouse, offered himself as a teacher. The neighbors convened to examine into his abilities. He was asked what branches he could teach. 'Almost any,' was the answer. He could instruct children how to read without first learning to spell, to write without first making marks, and it was indifferent to him in what rule they first commenced arithmetic. 'Are you acquainted with mathematics, sir?' was the next question. Supposing some great literary character was meant, the fellow assumed an air of great importance, and quickly replied: 'Matthew Mattocks, sir? No, sir, I am not acquainted with Matthew, but I know his brother Tom very well!'"

THE GIANT'S STRENGTH

BY BASIL KING

(Copyrighted by Harper & Bros.)

In subsequent numbers Paula read the history of the Trafford rise step by step, scheme by scheme, million by million, lawsuit by lawsuit, fight by fight, a great, sordid epic of finance, in which reputations were ruined, homes wrecked, lives blasted and a whole country's commercial, legal, political and moral honor brought painfully into question.

Paula read with no more than a vague comprehension. There were so many characters in the play—lawyers, bankers, merchants, capitalists, speculators, senators, governors, engineers, journalists, and politicians of every sort—that she grew confused among them. The scene shifted so often—now to San Francisco, now to Chicago, now to Washington, now to St. Louis, now to New York—that her mind could not keep pace with the action. There were so many questions involved—legal, legislative, geological, and economical—that her simple intelligence reeled in the effort to understand.

Where there were dramatic subject events, she grasped the subject more fully. She could follow the story of the ruin of the Winships from beginning to end. She could do the same with those of the Marshalls, of Tutonville, of the Brewsters, of Albany, and of poor Jackson, of Ohio. But whether details were clear to her or not, one great fact surged up out of this weltering mass of testimony—that the father she adored had fought his way to success by means which made her shudder. Nothing she had guessed at, nothing she had feared, could equal this heaping up of testimony from every corner of the land. Nothing she had ever imagined of Russian tyranny or Turkish misrule could be more merciless than the despotism with which her father and his associates, in a country considered free, had been able to club and crush and gag and grind into helplessness whatever lifted itself against them. And he was her father! She was his child! She was bone of his bone and flesh of his flesh. She could no more dissociate herself from him and his work than she could from the line of laborers and servants from whom she sprang. However confused she might be about facts, she had no doubt as to her duty here. It was to stand by the man who depended upon her; to stand by him all the more now, when, in his old age, the storm of popular wrath was gathering and breaking about him.

All through July, August, and September she had been reading these articles secretly. That her father was reading them secretly, too, she knew from seeing in the New York Herald or the Times an occasional statement from his legal representatives, in which this or that accusation was denied. How deeply he resented this history of himself she could see from his increased depression as each new number of the series appeared. Now, on one of the last days of September, the October issue was in her hands.

She had just finished reading it, in her favorite corner of the English garden. It had been especially pitiless to her father in the piling up of charges against him. She closed the volume, and with hands clasped upon it gazed vaguely across the lawn, indifferent to its sunlit spaces, as well as to the masses of dahlias and canna, gorgeous with autumn bloom.

"No, no," she kept saying to herself. "Roger couldn't take that money. It's blood-money. And I must keep it. There's no way by which I could give it up. If I did, it would kill papa. I must go on, all my life clothed in the ruin of beggared men and of hungry women and children. Roger said that, and it's quite true. My pearls are their tears and my rubies are their sweat of blood. And yet I must wear them, for papa's sake, whatever the world may think, whatever Roger himself may believe of me. O Roger! Oh my love! How can I go on all through the years without you? Oh, God help me!" she prayed, with a sudden lifting of her eyes. "Oh, God, help me! I'm so weak. I'm so tired. I've so little strength left to keep the struggle up."

Her breath came in hard gasps, the tears blinded her. She had just time to control herself, and dash her hand across her eyes, as she saw Wiltshire coming towards her through the trees.

She was not surprised. She knew he would be looking for her somewhere in the grounds. During the week after their first meeting, he had come every second day to the Pavillon de la Reine. During the week after that, his visits had been daily. In the third week, Trafford had invited him to move out to Versailles and become their guest.

To this arrangement Paula had given the welcome of acquiescence. Though she was aware of what her father meant, she was sensible, too, of the relief which Wiltshire's presence brought into the tension of their daily life. Whenever he was with them there was a return to something like the old-time happiness. Her father seemed to grow younger in his society, and she herself drew comfort from the knowledge that this good man's support was near. She could not bear to check his gentle, tentative advances; still less could she bear to give back cold refusal to the silent pleading in her father's eyes.

Little by little she began to see all that this marriage would mean to him. It would be more now than anything he had said when he had first spoken of it, months ago. Then the advantages of protection and position were to be for her; now she could see that he was in need of them himself. It gave her a feeling that the foundations of the earth were loosened to think that he,

OF HUMAN INTEREST

Last night was one of the nights that a good home seems about the finest thing imaginable. It needs stormy weather and inclement evenings to really make us appreciate our cosy homes and cheerful fire sides. I think all the times and places to get a good glimpse of different types and to study human nature, a crowded street car, on a pouring wet night is unexcelled. Many times I have tried to follow different folks in imagination to their several abodes and under if all of them thoroughly enjoy a stormy night as much as I do.

For I know that awaiting me is an atmosphere of concern for my "damp" welfare and the kindly assistance of half a dozen pairs—more or less—of willing hands if they are needed. But to some the storm night brings no haven of rest more than a boarding place that possibly is attractive enough in its way, but lacks the elements of home, and father and mother and sister and brother. And talking about homes, what a difference there is and how wide the influence some homes wield compared to others.

There is a certain undefinable "something" about the true homemaker that any amount of good housekeeping doesn't take the place of. I think if I had my choice today of great talent in the line of music, art or literature, or to be a real, true mother and homemaker, I would choose the latter. Fine furniture has nothing to do with it; the dearest home I can remember had rag-carpeted all over the house, and the kitchen and dining room were in one. We held up our hands at that nowadays, but the spirit was there, and the cheery evenings were spent with brothers and sisters—now far scattered—around the lamp-lit table and it was "home" in the truest sense of the word. So in this day of "up-to-datism" we are indeed fortunate if we can keep the spirit of the dear old-time ideas and forever say:

"Be it ever so humble
There's no place like home."
MARY ANN.

Chickens of Leisure. Mrs. Goldwin, having unexpectedly come into a fortune through a lucky stroke, set up a country home near Torquay, where she lived in style.

One day, while she was showing some of her old-time friends about the place, they came to the poultry yard.

"What beautiful chickens," the visitor exclaimed.

"All prize fowl," haughtily explained the hostess.

"Do they lay every day?" was the next question.

"Oh, they could, of course," was the reply, "but in our position it is not necessary for them to do so."—Pick-Me-Up.

"HOW TO BE BEAUTIFUL."

This is the title of the latest book published on the interesting subject, Woman's Beauty. ## PLEASANT WIRTHDAY PARTY LAST EVENING

A very pleasant surprise party was held at the home of Mrs. T. H. Allen yesterday evening in honor of the twentieth birthday of Mrs. Allen's daughter, Miss Louise Sieger. A party of about fifteen arrived at the house soon after supper laden with good things to eat and swoop down upon their "victim." Card playing was one of the pastimes and the head prizes were taken by Mrs. Jollivette and Mr. T. H. Allen and the booby prizes by Mrs. Gleason and Mrs. Jollivette. Music, singing and dancing were enjoyed by the guests after which refreshments were served. All departed at a late hour avowing a good time.

Dangers of Our Climate

A Land of Consumptives.

A cold today; a cough tomorrow; pneumonia or consumption next, and death finally. How often are we witnesses of this course of events! We first hear that a friend has caught cold and is more or less indisposed. Next we are told he cold seemed to wear off without taking any medicine, but left a bad cough which hangs on. Then we learn that our friend has been put to bed with pneumonia. Soon after we hear that tuberculosis has developed and, finally, that death is expected at any moment. We are significantly told "if you want to see him alive, you should call today."

Sad as such occurrences are they are nevertheless often the result of human neglect. Primarily they are mostly the result of our ever-changing climate. Take warning! Do not neglect a cold. Treat it at once with the right remedy. The right remedy is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. With it you will cure most any cold or cough quickly. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup seldom disappoints; it stands unrivaled as a remedy in throat and lung diseases, and is adapted to children as well as adults. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a medicine of the greatest merit, and is frequently prescribed by physicians where stubborn colds and coughs fail to yield to a customary prescription. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is pleasant to the taste and does not sicken the stomach, nor does it smother the cough like is often done by a cheaply made substitute. On the contrary, it nearly always cures quickly and thoroughly. It can certainly be claimed conscientiously that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is one of the very best remedies to be had of druggists today. Many certificates from the people in general, physicians, ministers and lawyers attest the unusual efficacy of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Every testimonial published is absolutely genuine, and the proprietors challenge any one to prove the contrary. The original letter is on file at their office for inspection, and can be produced in every instance. A trial of this excellent remedy is urgently invited.

MUSKRAT ATTACKS WATER SPANIAL

A peculiar incident occurred on the North side yesterday when the water spaniel owned by Frd Botz, the George street barber, was attacked by a large muskrat. Mr. Botz was coming down the street with his dog when they ran across the rat. It immediately waded into the dog and the fight that followed had any dog fight beat a mile. At last after the dog and rat had fought it about out the animal was dispatched by Mr. Botz. It is supposed that the rat found his way into town from Black river.

WITHDRAW DEMAND IN MONEY STRESS

SWITCHMAN'S UNION WILL NOT FORCE ISSUE NOW.

MEETING ENDS EMICABLY

Statement Issued in Which it is Said Employees Did Not Anticipate Financial Difficulties.

The conferences between the representatives of the General Managers' association and the Switchmen's Union of North America held in Chicago terminated when the switchmen withdrew all demands submitted for consideration at the conference.

The managers' committee submitted a letter to Frank T. Hawley, president of the switchmen's union, declining any further consideration of the wage scale at this time, and the union withdrew its demands. Satisfied With Result.

Mr. Hawley said after the conference that the chairmen of the various grievance committees, representing 20,000 switchmen, were well satisfied with the result, as insistence on the demand at this time was not opportune.

"It was not expected that the financial situation would be so acute when the demands were submitted some time ago to the general managers," said Mr. Hawley, "and we feel that all have benefited by the daily conferences, for it has shown our members that conditions are not right for any change in the wage scale at this time. Roads throughout the country expect an interruption in freight traffic owing to the money panic, and men will be laid off."

MRS. GEORGE DEASE.

The National Society Daughters of America, which was recently organized with headquarters in New York city, is destined to have a marked effect in uniting socially the various sections of the United States. Mrs. George W. Dease, its founder, has just been elected president general, and in an interview yesterday stated as follows: "The National Society Daughters of America seem to fill a long felt want. In this society it is not necessary that your ancestor must have been in some service but the old and respected families are brought together in more social lines that they may know each other better in a social way. Here they may preserve the history of their notable families, which in a short time would have died out with no records handed down to posterity. The idea seems to meet with great approval and its success is certain as it brings together those from far and near, from the south, the north, the east and the west in perfect harmony. Our motto is 'Liberty and Quality,' our colors are red, white and blue and we are politic in every sense."

SWITCHMANS HAND CAUGHT IN COUPLER

Alex McCan, known as "Texas," a switchman employed at night in the Milwaukee yards, suffered a painful accident while at work Tuesday evening. ## Home Treatment For Constipation

Backache, Brain Fag, Kidney Troubles and Nervous Exhaustion, by a Simple Fruit Mixture.

Anybody Can Make It. Eight people out of ten are troubled with constipation, and realize how it leads to nervous exhaustion, backache, and kidney and stomach troubles.

The moment you begin to get rid of constipation, you begin to feel like a new being, with all your old-time vigor and vitality coming back again. When your constipation is cured, you are not very apt to be sick at all.

Sufferers will therefore welcome the news that a well known scientist has discovered a compound mixture of certain tropical fruits and juices which react on each other in such a manner as to create the safest and mildest kind of a bowel mover, and at the same time, produce an activity of the digestive organs that keeps up the strength and nerve-vigor of the body. The idea of combining the well known laxative action of fruit juices with the digestive action of the Paw Paw Melon, is new to medical science, and has aroused the greatest interest among constipated people everywhere.

The remedy is a very simple and harmless one, and can be put together by anybody in their own home. All druggists sell the ingredients. Here is the recipe:

Mix one ounce of Obifruit Compound Extract—seven ounces of port wine. Shake well before using, and take a dessertspoonful before each meal, and at bedtime.

Constipation, backache, kidney diseases, and nervous exhaustion are quickly cured when this simple remedy is faithfully taken, and the patient feels the glow of vital energy in every nerve and sinew.

All druggists have sold large quantities of the ingredients, and always have a supply on hand.

LECTURES ON THE FUTURE OF TEXAS

GILBERT MCCLURG ADDRESSES AUDIENCE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Before a large audience at the high school auditorium last evening Mr. Gilbert McClurg, a lecturer of national repute, delivered a most entertaining and instructive talk, illustrated, upon the subject "O, Brave New World," of Texas.

Though the night was a bad one, and there was an inch of slush underfoot, the crowd was a compliment to the lecturer, and his effort was ample reward for their attendance. Many times during the evening Mr. McClurg's striking pictures of the new world of Texas and its promise brought forth applause.

The more than two hundred colored stereoscopic views and the motion pictures filled the audience with enthusiasm Mr. McClurg lectured on America much as Stoddard lectured on foreign points of interest.

Though this is Mr. McClurg's first visit to Wisconsin as a lecturer, his family is strongly connected with the earlier history of the Badger state. One of his uncles was a territorial governor of Wisconsin; his grand father founded the city of Racine, and J. I. Case, the threshing machine millionaire, worked for his grandfather at the plow for $1.50 per day. He has lectured at the various exhibitions of recent date and under the auspices of the leading educational

MISSING FORTUNE GRAFTER A CLEVER SWINDLER

HE TOLD SMOOTH STORIES

And Usually Wound Up His Recital of Pending Settlement of Cash
by Getting $5.00

While George Paradi de Marchande is confined in the county jail, awaiting trial for obtaining money under false pretenses, an investigation of the operations of the alleged general-all-around swindler will be made by the local police. From reports arriving in La Crosse, it is believed Marchande worked his heiship game in many of the cities of the country, and fairly coined wealth. When Marchande waived the preliminary hearing before Judge Brindley, he spoke like the man who has been before the bar of justice before and is acquainted with court procedure.

"I'll waive my hearing here, and wait for trial in the circuit court," was the calm reply of Marchande to the query of Judge Brindley, "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?" Marchande is charged with obtaining $5 from Mrs. Elizabeth Jollivette, a resident of French Island, where the majority of the residents are either French or French Canadian. The name of Marchande, with his French pronunciation of all words, was sufficient to give him standing in the community of French people.

Marchande claimed he was a cousin of Mrs. Jollivette, and that his name was John The Baptist Rolland, and that he lived in the province of Manitoba, Canada, and that Mrs. Jollivette was the daughter of the second wife of Zavier Goyette, and that Mrs. Jollivette through her said mother, was descended from a great granddaughter of one Rolland, who resides twelve miles from Montreal. During life Rolland was a wealthy tanner and amassed millions, said the clever Marchande. Rolland, he claimed, died, leaving this vast estate, and Mrs. Jollivette was one of the heirs to the property, and Marchande's father was administrator of it.

Marchande declared his father was 102 years of age, and incapable of discharging the duties of his trust, and that Marchande, Jr., the prisoner, had charge of this important legal function. Fourteen months had been spent in trying to find Mrs. Jollivette, resided Marchande, and he finally located her through information received in Madison, Wis.

About this time Marchande began feeling for his touch, whether there was any money in sight. The story began to turn to consular, notary and probate fees before the Jollivette portion of the estate could be secured. He informed Mrs. Jollivette that $2,050.20 was awaiting her at Montreal, and that proofs of the heirship were necessary. For the sum of $5 these could be obtained. Then Mrs. Jollivette handed Marchande $5.

The next heard of Marchande by the Jollivette family was his arrest. The present information against him is signed by Detective John Webber, and not Mrs. Jollivette, as has been stated erroneously.

LIVING SO HIGH

Judge Brindley has been besieged by applications of boys between the age of 14 and 16 for permits to work during the past few days. It is believed the cause is the high prices of food stuffs and other necessities of life have driven many poor families to take their children from school and put them to work.

SENATOR J. W. DANIEL.

Prominent eastern democrats have suddenly turned to Senator John Warwick Daniel of Lynchburg, Va., as a possible Moses to lead the democracy into the promised land. Colonel Harvey puts Senator Daniel on the front page of Harper's Weekly this week as a presidential possibility of potential power.

Senator Daniel is a lifelong democrat, born in 1842. He was a second lieutenant in the Confederate army, was wounded in the first battle of Manassas, received promotion until he became major and chief of staff of General Early with whom he served until crippled in the Wilderness May 6, 1864. He studied law and immediately upon entering practice busied himself with politics. From the Virginia legislature he passed to the national house of representatives in 1884. He was elected to the United States senate and took his seat March 4, 1887. He has continually served in the senate ever since. His term of office does not expire until March 3, 1911.

It is notorious that many democrats believe a candidate should be chosen from the middle south. In addition to this territorial argument Senator Daniel can have the advantage beyond his boom of long experience and strong ability.

GRABBED RELATIVE BY THE THROAT

LARSEN SENTENCED FOR AN ASSAULT ON GILBERTSON

ROW STARTED OVER DRINKS

Intoxicant Was Refused and It Took Three Men to Cut Belligerent Party to Jail

Christian Larson, of diminutive stature, who attempted to defy the police department, and who fought Patriolman Larry Dugan until the assistance of two by-standers was necessary to get the fighting prisoner to the central police station, was sentenced to the county jail for thirty days on complaint of A. Gilbertson, proprietor of the Aeaea saloon, 114 North Fourth street, in which place the assault occurred.

Larsen threatened the life of Gilbertson, a distant relative, when refused drink yesterday morning. Then he started a fight. With the assistance of John Koch, Larson's grip on Gilbertson's throat was broken, and the man finally was overpowered. Patriolman Dugan with another started to take Larson to the police station, when he attempted to break away at Fourth and State streets, and Alderman Harry Palmer assisted in the fight.

Larsen's mind was still foggy this morning. He started a fight in the saloon, or resisting an officer, causing a titter in the court room. Larson's face plainly showed the marks of an encounter. One eye bore the color of a tornado cloud, while the other resembled the wall color of the White House blue room, and his clothes appeared as though a sausage machine had attempted to devour them.

Mr. D. C. Cheney, Ass. General Superintendent, C. M. & St. P. Railway, Milwaukee, Wis.

Dear Sir:

Your attention has undoubtedly been called by your local officials to the accident which occurred at the Mill street crossing in this city yesterday, resulting in the death of one of our citizens and the almost miraculous escape of over fifty others.

Your attention was also probably called to an accident in the same locality June 15 last, resulting in the death of a young lady, an accident which it seems reasonable to believe, from the plat made for me at the time, may have been entirely due to a box car left standing wholly in the street on the West side.

I have no desire to appear hysterical in this matter, but the use of this particular crossing by the railway company in its management, has been for so many years such an unnecessary obstruction to traffic and a standing menace to safety, with only occasional orders serving to partially obviate the dangers, that I have now to respectfully request to be informed as soon as practicable and at your earliest convenience, whether your company is disposed to and will take early action to provide for the elevation of their tracks in that locality, substantially according to the plat submitted within a few years, and, I believe, favorably considered.

Without extending this letter permit me to say that it would be more satisfactory to me to have this question considered and settled by the company and the city, rather than to request the co-operation of the state authorities, if the company is ready to afford the city permanent relief.

Yours respectfully,
WENDELL A. ANDERSON,
Mayor.

Diplomatic sparring.

On September 4th following, Mr. Cheney wrote saying the matter had been submitted to the general officers of the company in Chicago, and that followed complete silence until, on Oct. 17, Dr. Anderson wrote to jog Mr. Cheney's memory, asking if the conclusions of the officials might be expected in the near future. There was a further silence and on Nov. 7 Dr. Anderson again wrote calling attention to the previous letter, and concluding:

"No acknowledgment having been received, of this letter, I assume that no further attention is to be given the representations submitted by me for the city. If this assumption is erroneous, please advise me by wire before Friday, Nov. 8."

This letter brought an immediate response, dated the 9th inst., offering discouraging comment and saying that Mr. C. L. V. Craft, the local agent, had been directed to call on the mayor.

Dr. Anderson declined to deal with Mr. Craft, and probably upon being

FINE RECIPE FOR COLDS

Mix half pint of good whiskey with two ounces of glycerine and add one-half ounce Concentrated oil of pine. This latter comes in one-half ounce vials packed in white birch wood air-tight cases which are intended to protect it from light and retain all the original ozone.

This simple mixture is to be used in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful four times a day. The bottle should be well shaken each time.

Don't use bulk oil of pine or imitations of Concentrated, which are often found with similar name and style of package. They are insoluble and work havoc to the kidneys. Any druggist has the Concentrated oil of pine. It will also be found a most excellent remedy for lumbago and all forms of uric acid rheumatism. For this purpose it is taken raw, a few drops on sugar at night and morning.

It also makes an excellent salve to be applied externally on the lungs. For this purpose put a teaspoonful into two tablespoonfuls of hot lard and apply hot.

CORTELYOU AFTER SELFISH BANKERS

THEY HOARD FUNDS SENT TO RELIEVE COUNTRY

BREAK FAITH WITH GOVT.

Reserves as High as 50 per cent

Amassed, or Cash Used to Buy Bargain Stocks

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—That a serious clash between Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou and leading New York bankers is imminent, was learned here today. The conflict grows out of the conduct of the bankers relative to nursing the cash supply.

A few weeks ago these bankers were on their knees to Cortelyou for cash, cash, cash. They wanted to "save the country." He helped them through a government expedient. Now, it is charged, these same bankers are taking this cash out of circulation, devoting it to the building up of huge reserves, often reaching as high as 50 per cent, where but 20 per cent is customary, or going into the market to buy gilt edged stocks at panic prices upon which to realize immense personal profits, while the country they wanted to "save" is in need of every dollar of it.

Cortelyou is said to be very angry, and it is understood that he has the approval of the president in his purpose to deal summarily with the bankers who have thus violated a sacred trust.

ANOTHER FORTUNE GRAFTER ARRESTED

According to a dispatch from Chippewa Falls, a second missing fortune grafter has been arrested there, indicating that there is more than d Marchande, now in jail here, in the business. The dispatch says: "George Afrana, alias many other names, has been arrested on a charge of swindling a number of French families here. Three weeks ago he was her and represented himself as being their cousin from Canada and changed his name to suit the relationship in the families he visited. He had a faculty of telling their family history truthfully and he seemed fully to establish his contention of his being their cousin."

"He was very affectionate to members of the families, and often kissed and caressed the mothers and daughters. He represented that a large estate in which they were interested was about to be probated, and that money to pay the attorneys' fees was necessary."

"It is believed he was successful in swindling in many cities of Wisconsin."

NEW LYRIC SHOW GROWING POPULAR

The Lyric theatre, formerly the Crystal, is under new management and is proving to be a most popular play-house.

The moving pictures are the best ever seen in La Crosse and no more tedious waits mar the pleasure of the performances. Formerly the audiences were forced to wait ten minutes between pictures; now that is all done away with and the films follow each other with rapidity.

All kinds and varieties of subjects are introduced and time is well spent at this interesting play-house.

The bill changes twice a week, on Thursday and Sunday and two performances are given each evening—one solid hour of moving pictures for a dime.

ORDINANCE MEANS TO GUARD CROSSINGS

COUNCIL ENTERTAINS NEW AND EXACTING MEASURE

RHEFUSS MAKES A SPEECH

Council Delayed While He Is Held 35 Minutes in Car "This Very Night"

An adjourned special meeting of the common council was held last evening. It was some time before the mayor could call the meeting to order on account of the fact that 14 aldermen were not present.

Alderman Rehfuuss finally came down on the street car from the North La Crosse Woodman hall. He said he had been held nearly 35 minutes at the Mill street crossing.

To Safeguard Passengers. An ordinance governing the conduct of street cars at railway grade crossings was introduced by Alderman Hirschheimer on request of the mayor, as follows:

Section 1.—That street cars shall come to a stop twenty-five feet from any railway crossing and that the conductor shall go in front of the car to ascertain that the crossing is clear and signal his conductor to that effect.

Section 2.—That any person violating this ordinance is subject to a fine not less than five nor more than fifty dollars or the alternative of not more than thirty days nor less than twenty days in jail.

Section 3.—That all other resolutions heretofore passed conflicting with this ordinance be and hereby are repealed.

Section 4.—That this ordinance shall come into effect at once upon its adoption.

The ordinance was first read by the mayor and then by the city clerk and then twice by Alderman Hirschheimer, after which it was referred to the railroad committee.

The city may furnish in the near future the heating for the G. A. R. rooms over the No. 2 police station which rooms were given to that order recently.

Alderman Vollmare read a petition from the board of public works that $70 be paid the La Crosse Stone company for extra work not included in the contract which had been done on Kan street on the catch-basins. It was passed.

Miscellaneous Business.

The stone fillings at the west end of the West Channel and bridge and other places recently improved, are to be examined by the city engineer who will see whether the filling was done according to the specifications. Alderman Rose read a bill due the La Crosse Gas and Electric company for three lights at $97.50 which lights could be removed at the option of the city.

When Alderman Rehfuuss appeared breathless at the chamber door on account of the run he had made from the car to the city hall he was greeted with much applause and asked for a speech.

After the meeting Mr. Rehfuuss responded to this request with a short dissertation on the sins of the Milwaukee railroad at its Mill street crossing. He told of reports which he had heard during his 35 minutes' wait at this crossing, to the effect that cars had been held there one time for 57 minutes, and at another for 40 minutes, and a number of other times for unreasonable lengths.

He said he had been held for 37 minutes.

President Charles F. Moll of the Wisconsin-Illinois Baseball association is improving from his recent illness according to a letter received from him this morning by President John A. Elliott of the La Crosse Baseball association.

Mr. Moll had a severe attack of pneumonia and for a time his condition was critical.

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life often make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the charm, the brilliance vanish like the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change, ignorance and neglect. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage and motherhood. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant pelvic drains and weaknesses which too often come with marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheeks of its freshness and the form of its fairness.

As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness the fact in renewed comeliness. Nearly all women have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Ingredients on label—contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs. Made wholly of those native American medicinal roots most highly recommended by leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments.

For nursing mothers, or for those broken down in health by too frequent bearing of children, also for the expectant mothers, to prepare the system for the coming of baby and making its advent easy and almost painless, there is no medicine quite so good as "Favorite Prescription." It can do no harm in any condition of the system. It is a most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve-nicely adapted to woman's delicate system by a physician of large experience in the treatment of woman's peculiar ailments.

Dr. Pierce may be consulted by letter free of charge. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

E. Burnham's Hair and Scalp Tonic

We have had years of opportunity to study "growth of hair" in our Chicago establishment, where we treat more heads of hair than any other establishment in the world, and E. Burnham's Hair and Scalp Tonic is the result of years of study and experiment.

E. Burnham has found the cause and cure for baldness, dandruff and other scalp infections. The scalp being one of the weakest parts of the cranium, blood becomes sluggish and the follicles or the roots of the hair become impaired and diseased from want of nourishment.

E. Burnham's Hair and Scalp Tonic overcomes this by feeding and strengthening the hair follicles, puts the scalp in a healthy and normal condition, gives the hair new life, stops it from falling out, cures dandruff and other scalp infections.

FOUR SUICIDES IN A SNIGLE FAMILY

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 21.—Ralph Flanagan, 22 years old, cashier of the First National Bank of Pleasantville, shot himself in the head and he will die. He left a letter to his father saying that worry at the bank caused him to commit the deed. He has been cashier two years, and his accounts are apparently straight. The bank remained open.

He also addressed a letter to Miss Bessie Gavin, with whom he had been keeping company. She has not disclosed the contents of this.

Several years ago, his mother killed herself, and it is said two aunts committed suicide. Hereditary insanity is accordingly ascribed for the cause.

He went to the bank in the morning and returned to his room. The shot was fired just as his father had called him to breakfast.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

WATER OPENS UP FIELD OF WEALTH

THOUSANDS OF ACRES OF LAND FOR FARMING

DRAINAGE TO RECLAIM SOIL

Ceded Portion of Red Lake Reservation Has Great Possibilities—Reclamation Will Be Easy

CROOKSTON, Minn., Nov. 21.—A. P. Meade, a member of the reclamation service of the United States geological department, has spent the past summer in charge of the work which the government is carrying on in northern Minnesota. He has been in charge of a crew of men who have made a complete survey of the ceded Indian lands in northern Minnesota with a view of draining these lands. This work was done at the instigation of Congressman Steenerson of Crookston, and the survey data will be used by Mr. Steenerson in his campaign for federal aid in draining the swamp lands of the northwest, a measure which he will push at the next session of congress.

Mr. Meade passed through Crookston yesterday en route to Baltimore, where he will attend the national drainage convention, which opens next Monday. While in Crookston he talked very interestingly to a press representative about the work which has been done during the past two years in northern Minnesota. The survey was started this year where it was stopped in 1906, and they have surveyed all of the land ceded by the act of January, 1889. This covers an immense tract of territory. It begins at Roseau county on the west and extends to the Big Fork river and almost to International Falls on the east and north and from the Canadian boundary to Red Lake.

Mr. Meade reports that there is a fall of 112 feet to the north between Red lake and the Lake of the Woods and that on account of the many rivers flowing north all of that north country can be very easily and cheaply drained.

He found the mukkeg to be from three to four feet deep, and under that he found a good solid clay soil without peat. He reports that the land in the vicinity of America, Minn., is excellent for raising celery and corn, and that it is some of the most fertile land in the United States.

Others who will go to attend the national drainage convention at Baltimore from Minnesota are George Ralph, state drainage engineer, and Mr. Arpin, representative of the Northwest Drainage company. They will leave the latter part of this week.

NORTHWEST BRIEFS

POSES AS TRAMP; UNEARTHS ROBBERY

DETECTIVE SECURED PILE OF EVIDENCE.

Three Switchmen at Minneapolis Arrested and Sentenced to Prison. Families Poor—In Need.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 21.—Through the work of Frank Colwell, a detective for the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, a gang of alleged freight car thieves has been discovered in Minneapolis. Three trainmen were arrested and brought into court charged with wholesale robberies from the freight cars given them to switch.

Frank Nelson, Fred Clark and Phil Murphy were the three men arrested. The company claims that robberies have been going on for several months and that fully $3,000 worth of freight has been taken from the cars while in the Minneapolis switch yards. Nelson and Murphy admitted their guilt in some minor thefts, and were sentenced to thirty days straight in the workhouse. All three cases may go to the grand jury if more evidence against the men is secured.

Colwell is responsible for the arrests. He entered the railway yards a short time ago dressed as a tramp, and soon gained the friendship of the men. He asked them about chances for stealing a ride out of the city, and made himself useful in little ways until he won their confidence.

Clever Ruse Works.

Being thrown off their guard by the actions of the supposed tramp the trainmen did not pay much attention to him, and as a result he was near at hand when they were at work pilfering cars that had not been properly sealed. He also visited the homes of the men and found some of the stolen goods.

Not Much to Eat.

"I found the Clark family in pretty bad shape," Colwell testified. "There wasn't much of anything to eat in the house, and so I left some cans of salmon which the man had stolen. The children seemed to be about barefooted, so I left five or six pairs of shoes that were stolen too."

CINCH CLUB MEETS ON NORTH SIDE

The O. O. P. Cinch club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blanchett on the North side. The first prize was taken by Mrs. E. F. Floy of Kane street and the second prize went to Mrs. Briebach.

After the card playing was over refreshments were served.

The club will meet two weeks from yesterday at the home of Mrs. Clark on State street.

LET ME INFORM YOU FIRST OF ALL

this is no patent medicine ad. You may read it down to the last line and not get stung. I want to talk to you about a sure thing. No risk whatever, it's part of the earth. It can't get away. It's value is fixed. There are more and more people wanting it every day. It is the Ideal Investment. Grover Cleveland says: I will tell you young man, no investment on earth is so sure, so safe, so certain to enrich it's owner as undeveloped realty. I always advise my young friends to invest their savings in Real Estate in or near some growing town. There is no such savings bank anywhere. Andrew Carnegie says: There is no doubt that Real Estate is the very best investment for small savings. It is bound to grow into money. More fortunes are accumulated from the raise in Real Estate than all other causes combined. To speculate in stocks is risky and even dangerous, but when you buy Real Estate you buy an inheritance. The wise young man or wage earner of today invests in Real Estate. Now Listen! I have investments that pay from six to ten per cent and improved property that is bound to increase in value. La Crosse is the growing town. Come lets talk it over

SIMPLE REMEDY KILLS BACILLI IN THE SKIN.

Oil of Wintergreen Properly Combined Makes Burning, Itching Eczematous Skin Pure and Healthy.

The simplest remedy for Eczema, Itch and other skin diseases known to the medical profession has for its basic ingredient that simple liquid, oil of wintergreen. This remedy kills the bacilli which causes burning, itching skin almost instantly.

The medical value of the oil of wintergreen has been known for many years to physicians, but it remained for a Chicago specialist, Dr. Decatur D. Dennis, to combine this oil with other soothing remedies for the treatment of Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, ring worm and other kindred diseases of the skin. One application of this clean pure liquid known as D. D. D. Prescription at once stops the awful itch. The relief is instantaneous.

Here is what John A. White of 806 Mills street, Creston, Ia., says of D. D. D. Prescription in a letter written June 15, 1907:

"I have just been cured by D. D. D. Prescription of the worst case of Eczema a man could have. I used only nine bottles and it did the work after I had spent over $500.00 with the best doctors in the country and got no relief. Let any person suffering with skin diseases write me personally."

Such cases as these seem innumerable. We can absolutely vouch for D. D. D. We know it instantly takes away the itch and we know it cures. All the cures furthermore seem to be permanent and at any rate just as soon as you apply a drop of the liquid the itch is gone. If you have any kind of skin rash or other skin trouble call at our store and we shall be glad to hand you free of charge one of the D. D. D. pamphlets on skin disease. Hoeschler Bros.

CONFESSES MURDER AND ALSO ROBBERY

PRISONER ADMITS KILLING LUMBER JACK.

DOES NOT KNOW THE PLACE

Declares He Was Drunk at Time—Believes Crime was Committed on Tote Road Near State

EAGLE RIVER, Wis., Nov. 21.—Confined in the Vilas county jail is a man who has confessed to having shot and killed a "lumber jack," sometime about Oct. 20, but possibly before or later than that date. After the killing he searched the body and took from the clothes of the deceased $60 in currency, silver and bills. The fellow says he does not know the date, but fixes it as near Oct. 20, 1907. He also says he does not know the place.

From his story it is probable that the man was killed on a "tote" road leading from the tracks of the Milwaukee railroad into a logging camp and about a mile and a half from the railroad track. District Attorney George E. O'Connor thinks that this deed must have been committed along the lines of the Milwaukee road or of the Northwestern railway, east of Eagle river, and possibly across the line in Michigan.

The fellow claims that while working in a camp near Watersmeet, Mich., he heard one of the men in the camp reading aloud an account of the finding of the body of a "lumber jack" shot through the chest and who had been robbed of $60.

The district attorney wants to learn the identity of the man killed and the place where the killing took place so as to notify the proper authorities.

The prisoner claims that while working in a lumber camp in northern Wisconsin, the exact location of which he does not know, he heard one of his bunk companions read aloud an account of the finding of the body of a murdered "lumber jack." From the description read he recognized the story of his crime of a few weeks before, but did not know who he had killed. Overtaken with remorse, he wandered from the camp and when he reached Eagle River made a confession of the crime to the sheriff and district attorney.

As he describes the deed, he met a lumber scaler on a "tote" road near a railroad track. Being intoxicated he picked a quarrel with the man and shot him down. Searching the body of his victim, he found $60 which he took, but left a watch and other valuables on the body.

All efforts to learn the man's name or anything of his history have proved unavailing.

District Attorney O'Connor has tried in vain to get a more lucid story from the man, but has failed. How he got into Eagle River Mr. O'Connor does not know. He believes the man has been on a "spre" for weeks.

TERRIFIC GALE WRECKS PIERS

MANITOWOC CRIBS WASHED IN TO LAKE

STORM SEVEREST OF SEASON

Many Vessels Seek Protection in Harbor—Tugs Work to Save Property

MANITOWOC, Wis., Nov. 21.—Thousands of dollars damage was being done here last night by the terrific southeast gale which destroyed new cribs just sunk in the outer harbor breakwater by the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock company.

Seas ran mountain high and with such force that four cribs were torn from their fastenings on the south arm of the new outer harbor pier. All the cribs which were sunk with stone and held fast by piling will probably be wrenched from their foundation as the storm gives no indication of letting up.

Two crews of men in tugs were out from 2 o'clock till 6 trying to save the cribs, but without avail, as the seas do not permit their getting near.

At 4 o'clock Supt. Mosher telephoned Maj. Judson at Milwaukee about the conditions. The Great Lakes company will probably lose all the construction on the outer harbor made this fall.

Late last night it was reported that a vessel was in distress off the local port. Tug Arctic put to sea, but it had disappeared. Seldom in the history of Manitowoc have seas run higher than today and because of the notification of a storm the harbor is filled with boats seeking shelter. Rain fell in torrents during the storm.
